March2, 1858.

Shall the State do anything for its own Prosperity.

Public attention has become very generally turned to the development of the resources of Maine, as the means of checking the growing evils of emigration, and of opening for the State that career of prosperity for which she has facilities not surpassed by any other State of the Union. In this work of development there can certainly be no greater or more efficient step taken than to open up for immigrants the rich public domains in the northern and eastern sections of the State. To accomplish this, the most direct means is, without contradiction, a main trunk railroad to connect the present lines of railway with the Aroostook country. That road cannot be built by private enterprise alone—a fact which is at this time self-evident, and which we think will be a matter of twenty years, if not for half a century to come. Without this railroad, the rich mineral and settling lands in the northern part of the State—covering a vast territory—must remain as dead and undeveloped resources of wealth, for an indefinite period. In the meantime, the business of the State languishes, and the most enterprising and valuable portion of our population turn their eyes to more inviting fields of enterprise, in States where an enlightened public policy and a far seeing public spirit has aided in developing natural resources, and thereby attracting a vitalizing current of immigration. Our people go to Massachusetts, to New York, to the great West—to a thousand points where the natural means of, productiveness and wealth are not greater than in Maine; but where something has been done in an enlightened public spirit to develope those means and to attract an active and enterprising population.

Maine has, in fact, become a State to emigrate from—when she might be a State to attract immigration. She has halted in her onward progress, and will soon begin to retrograde, not only in population, but in every department of business. The question is, Shall anything be done to avert the present evils, and to establish a positive and growing prosperity throughout her borders? Shall the value of property continue to decrease, or shall measures be taken to restore and to increase that value? Every farm in Maine is worth less to-day,—that is to say, it will bring less in the market,—than it would next year, if vigorous measures of development were at once adopted.

Nobody doubts this. Nobody doubts the benefits which would accrue to the whole State if a great trunk railroad were established from end to end of the State, running through the richest part of our unsettled territory, and in due time throwing out lateral branches in all directions.

We say nobody doubts the benefit which the State would derive from such a road. But how shall it be built? Thoughtful men in all parts of the State have considered the subject fully, during the past few years, and we very clearly that this great public enterprise cannot be accomplished without aid from the State—and that that aid must be given in the shape of public credit. The public lands, as they are now situated, are comparatively valueless in the market, and cannot be made available for building the road. The aid can only be efficient in the shape of State credit, or in money.

We believe a large portion of the people are satisfied that the time has come when the interests of all the citizens require that the State should do something as a State, to cause a return of prosperity and vigorous progress in the future. We know also that there has been in the minds of many a strong distrust of the policy of loaning the State credit for purposes of internal improvement. This distrust is a very proper one. It is not to be hastily denounced as illiberal or narrow-minded. It is founded in a prudent conservatism, which would avoid involving the State in doubtful schemes, which might increase public taxation without corresponding public benefits. We say this feeling of opposition to loaning the credit of the State has been strongly entertained by many, and we have no doubt by a majority of the people. We have regarded it as a wise and proper feeling; and we are not now surprised that many who have in times past committed themselves against loaning the credit of the State to any enterprise of public improvement should now hesitate to withdraw the opposition.

But the condition of things is now different from what it has ever been before. We look upon it as a vital question for Maine, which her people are now called upon to decide. It is a question which has become vital within a few years. It is whether she will develope her resources, and attract population to her borders,—or suffer her population to be depleted, her business to decline, and the value of the property of her citizens to fall in proportion as her business and population decrease. The people must either submit to these evils, which seem well nigh inevitable in the present condition and tendency of things—or they must take the only effectual means of remedying the evils. The time when the State could safely hold back has passed. We must risk something in this matter. We have hitherto been averse to loaning the State credit,—but we must now do it, or permit the material resources of the State, and the business of her citizens to depreciate, and her enterprising young men to go abroad to cultivate and enrich other States. We trust that every member of the Legislature, and every citizen, will look at the condition of things as they now exist, and not suffer any former views to prevail against what is evidently the best policy now. The interposition of the State in works of internal improvement might not have been the best policy in times past, when there was a prospect that private enterprise would develope our resources and lead to the settlement of our domain. But it is now seen that private enterprise is inadequate to the accomplishment of this necessary work. Other and more inviting fields for private investment have been offered in sections where public enterprise has opened the way for private profit. The State must therefore aid in doing what private enterprise will not do unaided. She must do it for her own benefit and for the benefit of her citizens.

It is not an eastern scheme. It is a work which is seen to be necessary by far-seeing and patriotic men in all sections of the State. It has been brought forward by influential citizens of the western and central as well as of the eastern sections. It can be accomplished, for the benefit of all,—if local feelings or party prejudices are not allowed to interfere. If the Legislature and the people will look at this enterprise in its true light,—as the great work to be first accomplished, and the accomplishment of which will surely inspire so strong a confidence in future prosperity as to lead to the establishment by private enterprise of other desirable railways—if they will do this, the prospect of its success will be good. If there is not a very general union and harmonious view as to what is the best step to take in the work of development, it will be impossible to accomplish anything.

The sense of the people will be taken upon this question. It is for them to decide whether they will secure a line of railway, which will be the means of increasing every man's property in value, and give an impetus to all kinds of business. Let them weigh well the importance of the subject and decide it, not upon former feelings or views, but upon what seems to be demanded by the exigencies of the present.

We have thus presented some of the reasons which at this time, imperatively demand a change in our State policy—a change without which Maine will inevitably fall behind in the progress of the country, the business interests of her people will languish, and her sons and daughters be obliged to expatriate themselves from her soil.

We are glad to see that the movement has been commenced with earnestness and boldness in the Legislature—and we hope the members will look at this question with carefulness and candor, and decide it upon no narrow view.—The future interests and welfare of the whole State are involved in their decision, and in that of the people.

Two committees reported in the Senate on Saturday upon the subject of State policy, one of them by a bill to incorporate a company for the construction of the Aroostook railroad. This act contains a provision for the company to take the assignment of the Penobscot, the Bangor, Oldtown and Milford, and also the Oldtown and Lincoln railroads. This is the basis. In addition, another committee through Mr. Hamlin of this county, reported a bill, an act to aid the Aroostook railroad company, increase the value and promote the sale and settlement of the public lands." This act provides that the credit of the State be pledged to the Aroostook railroad company, to an amount not exceeding two millions of dollars on condition that on the completion of each respective ten miles of the railroad, bonds of the State, payable in forty years, with six per cent interest, payment semi-annually, be issued to the company to the amount of not over twelve thousand dollars per mile. The State to take a lien upon the road as security and to receive a bond from the company to hold the State harmless. The State to set apart one half of the proceeds of the sales of the public lands to be applied to the payment of the interest of the bonds of the State issued to the company. The lands suitable for settlement to be managed and sold by the Governor and Council, State Treasurer and Land Agent.

The bill provides for submitting to the people of the State the question of so amending the Constitution that the Legislature may carry out by their enactments the provisions of this bill.

These reports and bills were laid upon the table and ordered to be printed for the use of the Legislature.

—MUNICIPAL ELECTION. The Annual city election takes place on Monday next. It will be seen that the Republican City Committee has called a General Caucus on Thursday evening next, for the nomination of a candidate for Mayor; and Ward Caucuses on Saturday evening. We hope these meetings will be fully attended. The absence of any special excitement upon the subject of these elections does not release any one from the duty of attending the primary caucuses, and using his influence for the nomination of the best men to serve in the several boards. There is a general desire that our worthy Mayor, who has so acceptably performed the duties of Chief Magistrate, should consent to occupy that station for another year.

Hon. Wm. Rice has been renominated for Mayor of Bath.

ALTERATION OF CITY CHARTER.—It will be seen by the act published in our advertising columns that our city charter has been amended so as to prohibit any member of the City Council from holding any office of pay or profit under the city government,—except that one Street Engineer may be taken from each board. The act is to be submitted to the voters for approval or rejection.

FIREMEN'S AND CIVIC BALL. We are requested to state that Eagle Engine Co. No. 3 will give a grand Firemen's and Civic Ball, on the evening of the Fourth of March, at Norombega. Particulars in a notice hereafter.

THIRD PUBLIC DECLAMATION by pupils of the Boys High School takes place this evening at Norombega Hall. The former exhibitions of this kind have been very creditable, and have been listened to with great interest by crowded audiences. We have no doubt the present occasion will be one of equal interest.

THE DAVENPORT BOYS.—Arrangements are being made with the Davenport Boys for a repetition of the experiments made at the test meeting on Wednesday evening last, or making a stronger test (if possible.) Realizing the importance of the subject, the committee of Wednesday evening prefer not to report until after the next trial.

SAD ACCIDENT. On Sunday last, an interesting little child of Mr. Joseph Sherpley, of Veazie, was so severely scalded that it died the next morning. It pulled a tea-pot from the stove, the boiling contents falling upon its neck and bosom. The child was about two years of age.

TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.—We learn that it is in contemplation to hold a series of public meetings in this city, on the subject of temperance. The first meeting will be at the City Hall this evening. It is hoped that the growing evils of intemperance will induce all the friends of sobriety and good order to take counsel together, and devise some means to save those who have fallen, and to strengthen and confirm the virtuous purposes of those, who, though now temperate, are yet exposed to temptation. Let the fathers and mothers of our goodly city reflect upon their duty in this matter. Let every citizen under a sense of his responsibility, ask himself what he can and ought to do to stay the progress of intemperance.

It is no party movement, that is proposed. It is simply a temperance reform. The pledge has not exhausted all its power for good.—Moral and social influences may yet accomplish much for the overthrow of intemperance.—Much good has been done in this way among our Irish fellow-citizens during the few last months, and a good work is in progress in West Bangor. May it extend through our entire community.

The Terrible Disaster at St. Louis.

We have already given a brief account, by telegraph, of the terrible conflagration and loss of life in St. Louis on Sunday morning last. The papers of that city contain full particulars of the calamity, forming one of the saddest narratives ever presented to the public. A most extraordinary fact in connection with the disaster is, that among the hundred souls in the hotel, not one should have been aware of the fire until the building was wrapped in raging flames, which were first discovered by the watchmen in the streets, who with great difficulty aroused the proprietor of the house, every person within was soundly asleep. The watchman thundered and yelled at the entrance till the answering bark of a dog in the room of the proprietor, Dr. Daniel W. Strader, started that gentleman from his slumber. Some of the incidents of the fire are heart-rending. We have only room for the following from the Republican of Feb. 22:

"The origin of the disastrous conflagration is at present not known with certainty. The impression is that the flames first broke out in the rear of the drug store of Dunion; C. Jones, one door from the corner of Seventh street, but how, has not been explained. The clerk who had been only three days in the establishment, and who slept in the bank part, stated that when he was awakened by the glare of the light, the whole of the western portion of the building was in flames. This was from a half to three-quarters of an hour before the steam engines arrived. He had not previously heard any alarm. There was half a barrel of turpentine, a barrel of oil, and some other combustables in that part of the store where, report says, the fire originated.

The loss of property, though large, is nothing to the destruction of human lives which this catastrophe has occasioned. From the best information that we can gather, there were about one hundred persons sleeping in the hotel at the time of the occurrence. It appears that the entire building was enveloped in the raging elements before scarcely any of the lodgers were awakened to the fullness of their danger. And when the inmates were finally aroused, it was only to find all opportunities of egress closed to them, for the staircases in front and behind were already gone, or so nearly so that an attempt to escape by these means would only be rushing into the arms of inevitable death.

The scene that ensued baffles any effort at description. The rushing of men, women and children to and fro to avoid the blistering heat, and to search for ways to reach the street—the shrieks of the terror-stricken and the groans of those confined to their rooms by walls of scorching fire—the shouts of those who had been called to the spot from the surrounding neighborhood—the clambering over swaying and reeling joists—the falling floors with their loads of heavy furniture and their dearer burden of human lives—all this and more that was intensely terrible and fearful, it is not given to our pen to adequately describe.

The stairs gone, the roof and floors inch by inch giving way, and the lurid flames shooting up momentarily thicker and hotter, many sought to escape the impending hazard of being burned to death, through the scarcely less dangerous prospect of jumping to the ground from the windows. Of those who endeavored to save their lives in this way, we saw six at the Sisters' Hospital yesterday. Mr. H. Hubbard, who arrived in St. Louis from Boston about eight weeks since, was occupying, with his lady, a room on the third floor. Mrs. H. was first aroused, and awakened her husband. Hardly had he come to be conscious of the cause of the surrounding confusion, before he saw his wife leap headlong out of the window on Poplar street. Seeing no other visible means of saving himself, he followed her, and both fell not far apart, on the pavement. Mrs. Hubbard had one of her legs fractured in two places, and had the knee cap of the other dislocated. Besides this, her lower jaw was broken in two places. It is not expected that she will survive. Dr. Hubbard had his ankle joint displaced, and received a severe contusion on the forehead. He is not thought to be in a dangerous condition.

Thomas M. Barker, one of the few who escaped alive from the building, says:

I occupied room No. 21, about the centre of the hotel, in the third story, and was awakened about three o'clock by a bustling noise in the hall, and a faint cry of fire. I raised up in my bed, and put my hand against the wall, and found it hot enough to blister. I jumped up, put on my pants, undercoat, overcoat and shoes; then unlocked the door, and found it difficult to get into the hall on account of the crowd. I got out rather sideways with the crowd, just in front of Mr. Rochester, who had a trunk on his shoulder, and tried to get to the front of the house on the Seventh street side; felt a hand and push on my shoulder, which seemed to signify that I must go to the back of the house, as the crowd were moving that way. All the while there were cries of women, 'Oh God, oh Heavens,' which I heard until, oppressed by a feeling of suffocation, I lost all sense of sound. When I found myself in danger of suffocation, I let fall my baggage and dropped my head to the floor.

This revived me for the moment. Many of the crowd had their trunks on their shoulders and dropped them, one after another, from suffocation, and many fell with them. I could hear the noise of their falling, the smoke being now so dense that I was prevented from seeing them. I also heard their gasps in efforts to breathe. I reached the window, and so nearly in a state of suffocation, that for the first time I deemed myself in danger of death.

Mr. Taylor then describes that a gentleman named Strong made his way over the heads of the crowd and, jumped through the window, carrying away the whole sash. He fell on a shed, and thence to the ground, and was fatally injured. A Mr. Torrence followed, and afterward Mr. Taylor himself jumped to the shed and from thence safely to the ground.

Mr. Taylor says, in closing:

By the time I struck the ground, I think no one was alive in the house; all were gone. Those who died inside of the hotel felt none of the pain of burns, as they died doubtless of suffocation before the flames reached them.—Not less than forty persons, I think, were in the third story when I left my room, and I believe all are dead. Only Strong, Torrence and myself jumped out of the window.

One item in the wardrobe of the Princess Royal of England on her marriage, should attract the attention of American women and be adopted by them. A part of her 'fit out' was twelve pairs of boots, which are described as 'useful and solid;' some of them intended for 'rough walking,' and provided with treble soles.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(Herald correspondence.)—The Secretary of War, with General Scott and Harney, is busily engaged in arranging the spring campaign against the Mormons. The Secretary has decided not to wait the action of Congress in relation to increasing the army, but to immediately withdraw the entire force from the frontiers and all other quarters, and concentrate them against the Mormons.

FRIGHTFUL OUTRAGE UPON AMERICAN MISSIONARIES.—New York, Feb. 26. A letter from Joppa, of Jan. 17, published in the Tribune, gives an account of an outrage upon one of the mission families. Five men broke into the house of brother Walter Dickson, murdered his son-in-law, Frederick Gross Steinbeck outraged Steinbeck's wife, horribly beat Mrs. Dickson and attempted to cut off Mr. Dickson's head, because after giving him all the money he had he would not give more.

TELEGRAPHIC

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, 1st.

SENATE.—A communication was presented from the legislature of Kentucky, offering a regiment of volunteers for the Utah army.

Mr. Green of Mo. called up the bill for the admission of Kansas.

Messrs. Irwin and Broderick of Cal. objected, as the Pacific railroad bill had priority in order of business.

It was added that the bill should be taken

Mr. Green of Mo., gave notice that he should offer a substitute, providing for the admission of the State of Minnesota and Kansas together, hoping thereby to expedite business.

He then proceeded to advocate the report of the majority of the committee, remarking that the leading and controlling facts stated in that document could not be successfully controverted. Attention had been made in the minority reports to side some of them, but they stood unassailed.

Repassed to a personal explanation, touching the action of the committee, as published in the New York Tribune, which asserted that the majority of the committee made a positive promise to Messrs Douglas and Collamer not to report till the Lecompton ordinance was disposed of, and violated that agreement. He detailed the facts, to show the falsity of the statement.

After a discussion between Messrs Green and Douglas

Mr Green said he had a substitute for the measure which he would offer at the proper time. It provided for the admission of Kansas and Minnesota together, the object being to expedite business, so that other important business might be considered.

He argued the legality of the Kansas constitution—that it was republican in form and was the regular act of the people.

He referred to the unsettled state of the territory as a powerful and overwhelming reason for its immediate admission, for it would give peace and quietness to the territory. He had read information to day of squatter committed by parties opposed to the Lecompton constitution, and that General Walker had been driven from the territory under threats of assassination. This he said was the result of the absence of the federal officers in Kansas. It is useless to cry peace! when there will be none until Kansas comes into the Union.

Mr. Collamer of Vt., followed. He referred to the Missouri Compromise as having settled the slavery agitation, and it being a fair bargain, he thought it just in the South, after receiving her portion of the advantage, to repudiate the compact. Why believed, he asked, in 1854 that slavery would go into Kansas? It was a well settled principle that the power to regulate implied the power to prohibit. Mr. C. quoted instances to show where this power had been exercised, and referred to case in Mississippi in 1796 as in point. He defended the Emigrant Aid Society, denying that the emigrants from the North went to Kansas merely to vote, without designing to stay there. He referred to the fundamental elements earried from Missouri, and other gross outrages into which the government had never examined.

Messrs. Seward of N.Y., Harris of Ill., Grow of Pa., Curtis of Iowa, and Bishop of Conn., were appointed, the special committee to consider the resolution for the expulsion of Mr Matteson.

Mr Harris was excused from serving at his own request.

Mr Sherman of Ohio offered a resolution which was adopted calling for information as to whether money has been paid from the treasury for the year ending June 30, 1857, for expenses of the legislature of alleged legislature of Kansas; and if so, under what act and from what fund.

Mr Florence of Penn presented a memorial from the marine underwriters of Philadelphia, against any iteration of the law establishing the light house system; referred.

The bill then lectured some long in the bill for the organization of the clerks and other employees in the House, pending a decision upon which an adjournment took place.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, 1st.

The Senate in executive session to-day confirmed a large number of appointments made during the recess.

Mr. Wm. Jones has been appointed postmaster of Washington, in place of Lovett, whose commission has expired.

The nomination of Mr. Cook as postmaster at Chicago, was warmly debated for two hours. The discussion involved questions concerning his moral integrity. Pending the question the executive session adjourned.

Hon. George Ashman was before the tariff investigation committee this morning. According to all accounts he said he knew nothing whatever concerning the matter about which he had been interrogated.

The Metcalfe investigating committee will hold their first meeting on Wednesday.

New Orleans papers of last Tuesday are at hand, and contain details of Mexican news brought by Lerdo Tejeda's message at that port. Also the latest news from Texas.

The occupation of the Echo National writes from Cuernavaca, on the 29th of Jan'y, that 200 Indians attacked Iguala and were repulsed, and killed one of their leaders, was killed. They then made a descent on Lepeccosuelo, which they pillaged, committing a number of murders and assassinations. Vicario had marched against them with a strong force.

Jas. Whitfield, in a letter read to-day, says that Gen. Lane's party has served upon him a notice to quit Kansas, threatening unless he shall do so that he, Lane, will assassinate him. Gen. Whitfield says that he has sent his family out of the territory, but at his himself will remain. Gen. Lane also says that house burnings and murders are frequent. In the country opposite St. Joseph's Mo., Mr Forman and his family have been driven out, and several other persons living there killed. Also, no in the county above.

ST. LOUIS March 1.

The Leader says from Father Desmet, a Catholic Missionary, who has spent many years among the Indian tribes, that on either slope of the Rocky Mountains there is a perfectly easy route both from the Salt Lake to the British possessions. He states as his conviction, that if the Mormons leave their present location, they will proceed northward to New Caledonia, in British America, and settle at the base of the Portage Mountains, near the 49th parallel.

The route is described in detail. The country is represented to be eminently superior in every respect to that of Utah.

The Leader calls the special attention of the War Department and the public to its article.

BOSTON, 1st.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON—Having witnessed the beneficial effects of your celebrated Pain Killer in several cases of cholera morbus, within a few years past, I most cheerfully recommend its use, as a safe and effectual remedy. About four years ago I used it in a case of cholera, and it proved an effectual and speedy cure, and in one case of catarrh, and some time in December last, six of my children were taken down with scarlet fever or canker rash,—by only medicine was Pain Killer and Castor Oil—the Pain Killer operating to a charm in curing the canker and throwing out the rash, so that in about five weeks my family were entirely recovered, and I recommend the same as a safe and sure cure for the very dangerous disease of scarlet fever, by giving one teaspoonful three times a day every other day, and every other day Castor Oil.

CORNELIUS G. VANDENBURG,

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER, after a thorough trial by innumerable living witnesses, has proved itself to be THE MEDICINE OF THE AGE. Although there have been medical preparations before the public since its first introduction, and large amounts expended in their introduction, the Pain Killer has continued to steadily advance in the estimation of the world as the best Family Medicine ever introduced.

jan26 O. H. PATCH.

State of Maine.

In the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight.

AN ACT to amend the City Charter of Bangor, so that Aldermen and Councilmen shall not hold subordinate offices.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives, in Legislature assembled, as follows:

SECTION 1.—No person elected to the office of Alderman or Common Councilman of the City of Bangor, and who has accepted said office, shall hold any other office to which any pay is attached or from which any profit is derived, in or under the administration of the government of said city, or in the management of the affairs or interests thereof, during the time for which he is so elected, excepting that one Street Engineer may be taken from the Board of Aldermen and one from the Common Council, as required by an ordinance of said City.

SECTION 2.—This act shall not take effect or be in force till it is accepted by a majority of the legal voters of said city, voting thereon in the several wards at meetings called for that purpose in the usual manner that meetings are called by the Mayor and Aldermen of said city; and the votes thereon shall be returned to and counted and declared by the Mayor and Aldermen.

SECTION 3.—This act shall take effect when approved by the Governor, so far as to allow its immediate submission to the people of Bangor, and shall have full effect when accepted as herein provided. (Approved Feb'y 22, 1858.)

LINCOLN'S

WATER PROOF BLACKING,

AND LEATHER PRESERVATIVE.

Keep your Feet Dry and you will seldom need a Physician.

IS it not a truth that when the feet are often wet, it is one of the greatest causes of colds and consumption? It is a truth that when leather is often wet and dried, it soon becomes hard, stiff, and cracks; but when this water-proof is used, it remedies. By the application of this preservative it remains soft, and entirely impervious to water.

After being engaged for 25 years in the manufacture of Leather in all its branches, and being often troubled with wet feet myself, I was led to experiment on a different composition, and found it easy to make it water-proof, but at the same time extremely injurious to the leather. At last by a chemical process, I discovered a preparation which purely harmonizes with the astringent properties which tan renders to tanned. It will not only make leather water-proof, but likewise softens the leather, and it will Positively wear twice as long.

I have now used it for three years, and in a large part of that time have worked in a wet Tannery, with my boots constantly in water, and have not had my feet wet during that time. I can therefore in all confidence recommend it to the public as the best article in the market.

DR. SANFORD'S

INVIGORATOR, OR LIVER REMEDY

IS AN ARTICLE THAT EVERY BODY needs who is not in a perfect state of health, for the Liver is second only to the heart in our human economy, and when that is deranged the whole vital machinery runs wrong. To find a medicine peculiarly adapted to this disease has been the study of one of the proprietors, in a large and extended practice for the past twenty years, and the result of his experiment is the Invigorator, as a never failing remedy where medicine has any power to help. As a Liver Remedy it has no equal, as all testify who use it.

A lady, writing from Brooklyn, says, "Would that I could express in this short letter the value your Invigorator has been to me in raising a large family of children, for it has never failed to relieve all affections of the stomach, bowels, or attacks of worms. If mothers once find this remedy placed within their reach, and were taught how to use it, a fearful and untold amount of agony might be saved."

One of our prominent bankers says, "Five or six years since, I found myself running down with a liver difficulty; resorting to your Invigorator, was greatly relieved, and continuing for a season, was entirely restored."

A clergyman called at our office the other day and said he had given a poor woman a bottle, who was suffering very badly from Liver Complaint, and before she had taken the whole of it she was at work earning bread for her family.

A gentleman, recently from the West, says, while at Chicago he was attacked with a slow, lingering fever, that baffled the skill of physicians, but the Invigorator cured him in a few days.

One of our city merchants said, while on a visit to Troy, a few days since, he was attacked with bowel and stomach disorders, so as to confine him to his room. He sent to the drug store for a bottle of Invigorator; took one dose, which relieved him so that he was able to attend his business.

An acquaintance, whose business compels him to write most of the time, says he became so weak as to be unable at times to hold his pen, while at others sleep would overpower him, but the Invigorator cured him.

A gentleman from Brooklyn called on us a week or two since, looking but the shadow of a man, with skin yellow, pale and deathlike. He had been for a long time suffering from Jaundice and Dyspepsia, and unable to attend to his business. We saw him again to-day a changed man, and to use his expression, he has not seen the bottom of the first bottle, and further adds, "it saved my life, for I was fast going to a consumptive's grave."

Among the hundreds of Liver Remedies now offered to the public there are none we can so fully recommend as Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy, so generally known throughout the Union. This preparation is truly a Liver Invigorator, producing the most happy results, on all who use it. Almost innumerable certificates have been given of the great virtue of this medicine by those of the highest standing in society, and it is, without doubt, the best preparation now before the public.

HONEY MAKING.

Torrey's Bee Hive.

THE subscriber, having purchased the right of making and selling Davis' Patent Bee Hive for the Counties of Penobscot, Lincoln and Piscataquis, which has been received with so much favor, and taken the first premium wherever exhibited, has introduced an improvement into the Bee Hive and is now prepared to make the same in connection with the Davis Platform, and to sell rights to towns and individuals.

This Bee Hive, thus improved, is admitted by persons acquainted with the honey-making business to be superior to every thing yet invented for the purpose. It covers all the requisitions for the profitable maintenance of the apiary, by providing for ventilation at all seasons of the year—room for the exercise and feed of the bees—convenience for the removal of excrement, for the proper separation of the swarms, and generally for the health and comfort of the workers.

The boxes used in this Hive for storing honey, are the best adapted in their size, for the market, holding from three to six pounds each.

The subscriber wishes to purchase one hundred swarms of bees in exchange for bee hives and individual rights.

For sale, fifty swarms of Bees, with the new hives.

Premium awarded to T. C. BUTLER, Derby Line, Vt., on MILLER'S CONDITION POWDERS, for Horses & Colts, at the Vermont State Fair, held at Burlington, Vt., Sept. 9, 10, 11 and 12, 1856.

MILLER'S

CONDITION POWDERS

For Horses & Colts.

PRICE—Twenty-five Cents.

THE changes of weather and season, with the changes of use and feed, have a very great effect upon the blood and sinuous fluids of Horses. At these changes they require an assistant to nature to throw off any disorder of the fluids of the body that may have been imbibed, and which, if not attended to, will result in the Yellow Water, Heaves, Hots, &c., all of which will be prevented by giving one or two of these Powders, Spring or Fall, and will at any time cure where any symptoms of disease appear, if used in time. They purify the blood, remove all inflammation and fever, loosen the skin, clean the water, and invigorate the whole body, enabling the animal to do more work with the same food.

The action of these powders is directly upon the secretory glands, and therefore all diseases arising from or producing a bad state of the blood are speedily cured by them. Also, colds and surfeit of any kind are cured by one or two of these powders, if given according to directions.

In all cases of Horse Distemper, they should be given at the first symptom, to prevent fevers, and in the last stage, to carry off all humors of the blood, and to restore a healthy action to the glands of the throat.

We, the subscribers, hereby certify that we have used Miller's Condition Powders, for Horses and Colts, prepared by T. C. Butler, Druggist, Derby Line, Vt., and think them the best Powders for Horses and Colts that are out of condition, that we have ever used. We would recommend them to Farmers, Stage Companies, Stable men, and others, dealing in or keeping Horses and Colts.

They will clean the Worms and Bots out of a Horse's stomach, and give him a good appetite for his food, and a good coat.

They are also good for the Heaves, and for a Cough, and they have been highly recommended for the cure of Worms and Bots in Colts.

They clean the water, loosen the skin, and invigorate the whole body, enabling the horse to do more work with the same feed. (signed by)

Timothy Winn—Mr. Butler would say that Mr. Winn is the proprietor of the Canada House and Stage office on Stanstead Plain, and was for many years proprietor of the Derby Line House, Derby Line, Vt., where he raised that black colt called the Know Nothing, which was sold at $1850 at four years old.

Erastus Lee—Mr. Lee is one of the most extensive farmers in Eastern Canada, and has raised some very valuable horses, which he has sold at high prices. This gentleman raised and sold the bay horse called Charley, which was afterwards sold for $1000 and taken to France. He also raised and sold the horse called Body, which has been taken to California, and is held at $15,000. Mr. Lee keeps from 40 to 60 horses and colts, and makes great use of Miller's Condition Powders.

Wm. B. Hoyt—keeps the Lyndon House and Livery Stable at Lyndon, Vt.

H. Heath—drives from Lyndon to St. Johnsbury.

A. B. Flint—St. Johnsbury, Vt., dealer in horses.

Geo. A. Merrill, St. Johnsbury, Vt., Master of Transportation on Railroad.

H. A. Quinby—Merchant, Lyndon Centre, Vt., and keeps the Powders for sale.

We, the undersigned, fully concur in the above recommendation of Miller's Condition Powders.

TREMONT MILLS.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES

E. E. DYER & CO.,

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding Coffee,)

No. 5 Broad, near State Street,.....Boston.

Supply the best, finest and purest articles, at the lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar, Taraxacum or Imported Dandelion Root, &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely on having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO." To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5lb. Boohing Tea,	1,75	5lb. Mocha Coffee,	1,10
5lb. Oolong Tea,	2,00	5lb. Java Coffee,	1,00
5lb. Y. Hyson Tea,	2,50	5lb. Rio Coffee,	1,00

The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of consumers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, is believed, is equal to 1½ lbs. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root. This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the genuine article. The proportion used is about one half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it; this being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians, to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c.

Be careful to observe that all our Taraxacum has our trade mark—"Chinaman Grinding Coffee"—as there are many imitations of our article called Taraxacum in the market.

To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rates.

TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system, and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock, and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

O. R. PATCH.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science affords. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their reputation of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures and cures obstinate complaints, so quick and so surely, astonishing an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs, stimulating them into healthy action, they restore the fountains of life and vigor to health, renew through the body, and make sick men well again. They are adapted to diseases and to all, only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are healthy they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been tormented with bilious complaints, see his hollow form, tottering form straighten with strength, see his long-lost appetite return, see his channel complexion blossom into health. Give them to some one whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula, whose skin is covered with sores; who stands, or rather lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could devise or quack get. Give him these Pills, and marvel to see the scabs fall from his body, see the new skin that has grown under them, see the new flesh that is clean. Give them to him older, where humors have planted rheumatism in his joints, settled in the lungs. The cry is, lung cancer, glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of his wife whose laugh is hollow and strange, whispers to all but him Consumption! He takes every thing but the Cure. He guards at his sides, and shows in fatal symptoms, nature and money are all in flame. He is taking the Chinese Premium, he has stopped his cough, and made the death-rattle cease; his sleep is sound at night, his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The fatal cough, shattered his side is broken. Search, in vain, shall you find a case which has not some hideous form to show for the vile work which it has done for the Chinese Premium, an imperishable name, by its usefulness, designs and de
